

Ashley Victoria Robinson

Actor/Writer

About

Ashley Victoria Robinson is an actor and dual citizen of Canada and the United States, award-nominated comic book writer, award-nominated geek host, and hobbit with over 100k combined followers. She is a polyglot creator who has been seen from Youtube to international ad campaigns (Intel, Twitter), and has performed in multiple languages on stages around the world. Ashley shares creative project process with her Super Friends (patreon.com/jawiin), cat mum photos, and family travel adventures on site and across social media platforms - with product and brand sponsors often therein.

She was introduced to the world as the co-creator and star of The Red Shirt Diaries (a Star Trek parody webseries), and remains one of the internet's favourite Trekkies having gone on to host Ora.Tv's Creator Trekkie and guest on Roddenberry's Mission Log. Her own podcast, Geek History Lesson, has been nominated for numerous awards. Ashley is now going on 5+ years of Guest status at Comic Conventions across the country as a performer and Ringo Award nominated writer. She is available for acting work, product collabs, creative projects, and more.

Get In Touch

Phil Brock (Manager)
phil@studiotalentgroup.com
(310) 393-8004

Social Media

Facebook:

/ashvictoriarobinson

Instagram: @ashleyvrobinson

Twitter: @ashleyvrobinson

Youtube: /jawiin